

I depend on the traffic and weather from XM radio to determine best routes to hospitals and patient care centers. Broadcast radio traffic reports are useless. They are generally 20 to thirty minutes behind and generally take one in the absolute wrong route.

Broadcast weather is guess-work at best. I find that XM radio's traffic is up to the minute, accurate and much more reliable than the broadcast.

Don't mess with a good thing

S.A. Meyersfield, M.D., F.A.C.S.